LeBeGone

Essential Oil Blend

Cedarwood, Lavender Officinalis, Lemongrass,
Rose Geranium

APPLICATION:

LeBeGone should be sprayed on the of pant legs, sleeves, and hats being careful to avoid contact with the eyes. Each of the single oils in this blend is among the best at repelling insects and was designed to help prevent insect and tick bites.

AROMATIC CONSIDERATIONS:

LeBeGone has an amazing aroma and is one of my favorite oils to wear, even when not out in the "wild". When I think of bug sprays I don't think good things smell wise but this is a wonderful smelling oil.

AFFINITY FOR:

insect repellent, emotions, lymphatic system, kidneys

EMOTIONAL-SPIRITUAL-MENTAL ASPECTS:

LeBeGone contains many oils used for depression, anger, and judgemental attitudes. The most important emotional aspect of this blend is in creating the feeling of being supported and loved. A great oil to diffuse in negative situations.

PHYSICAL ASPECTS:

This is a great oil for gentle lymphatic drainage. The oils in this blend support the movement of lymphatic waste products through the kidneys.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Insect bites can be dangerous as well as just annoying, but slathering yourself with chemicals may not be the best solution. Essential oils make a viable alternative while providing other physical health benefits and emotional support.
